

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submissions filed/IDS's filed on 5/1/2012 and 7/20/2012 have been entered and considered.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 75-89, 105 and 107-108 are allowed.
3. The present invention is directed to an account-holder selectively turning the verification feature on and off. The system allows a user to temporarily disable the verification function when verification is inconvenient or impractical, make a transaction that would otherwise require verification, and then re-enable the verification function to prevent authorized charges.

the principal. Blonder 2:43-60. Blonder describes having Blonder's system contact the account-holder rather than the account-holder contacting Blonder's system during transaction authorization. Blonder 7:65 - 9:30. When a merchant requests verification from a card issuer, the card issuer may call the customer possessing the card for verification. When the customer provides the verification to the card issuer, effectively approving the transaction, the card issuer in turn provides verification to the merchant. Blonder 5:25-47.

Joao 6,529,725 is directed to providing financial transaction authorization, notification and/or security, in conjunction with credit card, charge card, debit card, and/or currency or "smart" card use, savings and/or checking account activity and use and/or cellular telephone use. Joao 3:66 - 4:7. In instances when the communication device does not have a reply or two-way pager feature, the cardholder may simply telephone the central processing office or a processing center for the card in order to personally appraise the center or office of his or her response to the central processing computer transmission regarding the transaction. Joao 19:1-7.
